

A photograph of an outdoor dining terrace. In the foreground, a long table is covered with a light-colored, textured tablecloth and is set for a meal with plates, glasses, and cutlery. A small floral centerpiece is on the table. The terrace has a glass railing. In the background, there is a clear blue sea, a rocky coastline, and a coastal town with buildings on a hillside under a clear sky. A large, light-colored thatched roof hangs over the terrace.
